MYSTERY AUTOIST RAMS FIRE PLUG

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Fifty-six thousand cubic feet of water worth about $294 according to the prevailing price, went to waste yesterday afternoon along several gutters downtown and drenched many pedestrians.

A careless motorist, name unknown, backed his machine against a fire plug on Hill street, between Sixth and Seventh, breaking the plug off flush with the sidewalk. For twenty minutes the water gushed forth, a six-inch stream shooting, geyser like, fully fifty feet into the air.

Hill street, in that vicinity, took on the appearance of flood time. The flow of water made it necessary to lay planks for bridges to cross the street. Traffic officers had to assist and in some instances carry women across. Traffic was impeded as far as Eighth and Broadway.

Assistant Superintendent Thomas Brooks said workmen were unable to get to the broken plug to shut off the water at the stop cock until the pressure in the entire Hill street main was reduced. It was the fifth plug broken by an automobile in the past four months.

Youth, With Body Nearly Severed, Soon to Recover

Physicians Marvel At Great Vitality of Boy Horribly Injured

Physicians are marveling at the splendid vitality and recuperative powers of Benito Vasquez, the 19-year-old boy who was near being cut to death by a rapidly revolving circular saw near Garden Grove on October 30. Despite the youth's frightful injuries, it is believed that Vasquez will be able to leave the Garden Grove hospital within two weeks.

Vasquez sustained his horrible injuries when the saw, near which he was working, jumped out of place. The boy was in a stooping position at the time, placing blocks of wood in position for the blade.

The flying saw caught the boy in the left shoulder and cut a ten-inch slash straight down toward Vasquez's heart, severing all the muscles during its progress.

In saving himself, Vasquez also received a severe laceration on the right shoulder, as well as other injuries.

Doctors worked over Vasquez for three and a half hours. Some of the youth's wounds were so serious that wire had to be resorted to in bringing the torn ligaments together.

Vasquez's mind was perfectly clear when he came out from under the influence of the anesthetic.

WOULD PREVENT BORDEN HAVING PATENTS IN TRABUCO

Protest Against Private Title In Canyon Protested By Forest Service

The Federal forest reserve service through its legal department has filed a protest with the United States Land Office in Los Angeles against granting patents to Gail Borden for mining claims in the Trabuco canyon in the Santa Ana mountains.

The forest service proposes to make an effort to keep title to the canyon, which is one of the most beautiful in Southern California, for the public.

Borden is successor in interest to the Santa Ana Tin Mining Company, which years ago filed mining locations in the canyon on a boom idea that there was tin there. As a tin mining proposition the mines were an absolute fizzle. The promoters, then, turned the tide of talk toward gold and silver, and the development of the claims as a group through the installation of a mill and other equipment was upon the theory that the canyon really furnished a basis for mining claims.

While there is no definite information obtainable here, it is understood that the basis of the protest by the forest service is that the claims upon which patents are asked have no real mineral value.

The fear that has been expressed here was that Borden might get patents to his claims, which cover the finest portion of the wooded canyon and cover it from the steep mountain side on one side to the steep mountainside on the other, and be able to block travel up the canyon except upon whatever conditions he might impose for travel through his property.

In order to prevent such a situation, in view of the possibility that Borden may get his patents, the Board of Supervisors of this county through Supervisor Jasper Leek has already taken action to have a county road declared along a strip up the canyon through the Borden locations. When that strip is declared a county road it will be impossible for Borden to shut out the public from the portion of the canyon above the Borden claims.

REVIVAL SPEECH IS HIT AT SAN PEDRO

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 19.—"We don't need this kind of fellows to come here and tell us that stuff," said former State Treasurer E. D. Roberts, local banker, last night at a banquet of the Merchants' Association, in an attack on the methods of Evangelists Brown and Curry, now conducting a revival here. Loud applause from the business men present greeted the arraignment.

"We are no worse than any other town," he continued. "These fellows come into a town, tear the town to pieces, get us all stirred up, advertise their view of us to the world, and get $1200 for doing it."

Mr. Roberts also quoted Brown and Curry as having made remarks derogatory to San Bernardino women in general. The evangelists, who seemed to have been advised immediately of Mr. Roberts' statements, denied the language attributed to them in the latter case.

Rev. John Brown said that he thought Mr. Roberts' antagonism grew out of the fact that the latter wanted a "wet" town, while they were working for prohibition.

HILLSTROM DIES IN FIGHTING MAD FURY

Severely Wounds Guard With Broomhandle Concealed In Death Cell

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19.—Fighting with insane fury, Joseph Hillstrom, Industrial Worker of the World, died before the state firing squad in the penitentiary yard at 7:42 this morning.

Hillstrom paid the penalty for murdering J. G. Morrison and Arling Morrison, grocers, during a hold-up. Eleventh hour pleas of President Wilson and the Swedish minister failed to obtain an additional delay.

High officials sought a delay of execution at the request of the Swedish government, alleging that the trial had been unfair. Hillstrom was a Swedish subject.

Broom Handle in Cell
In an unknown manner, Hillstrom had concealed a broom handle in the death cell.

The doomed man, brokefasted on bacon and eggs, toast and coffee. He appeared highly nervous.

The guards entered. Hillstrom seized the broom handle and attacked the guards. One guard was severely cut about the head and face.

Finally the I. W. W. post was overpowered. "I'll Die Fighting"
Hillstrom screamed, "I'll die fighting, and not like a coward."

His arms were pinioned to his sides. Suddenly Hillstrom became calm. He refused to be blindfolded.

Despite the murderer's protests, the heavy blindfold was adjusted. Warden Pratt led the death march. Two doctors brought up the rear guard.

Hillstrom walked to the death chair with a swinging stride. In passing the thirty-three witnesses Hillstrom again struggled, attempting to free his arms and remove his blindfold.

Rifles Yawn From Shop
Hillstrom was placed in a big congress chair, twenty paces from the back of the shop. The muzzles of the five rifles glittered from holes in the shop door.

Hillstrom was tied into the chair. He stretched his lips. The two physicians tested his heart; it was pumping hard. Then a white target was pinned above his head.

Shrieks "Let 'er Go"
Sheriff Corless shouted, "Aim." Hillstrom shrieked, "First! Let 'er go!"

The convicted slayer grinned broadly. Sheriff Corless gave the command.

TURKEY DAY RUN TO SAN DIEGO LURES MOVIE FAVORITES

S. C. Auto Club Hopes 500
Motors Will Be In Line
For Big Jaunt

By E. J. Steinke.
With the hope of having 500 automobiles in line, officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California and the Panama-California Exposition are preparing final plans for the big Thanksgiving Day highway and exposition celebration November 25.

Motor car dealers throughout Southern California have been asked to co-operate by sending a notice of the tour to each individual owner, and many of the most prominent have already signified their intention of having large representations present when the lead cars pull away from the Auto Club headquarters at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

Highway supervisors representing the Southern California counties will occupy several of the first cars in line. Invitations have been mailed from the Auto club headquarters with notices of the various events which will mark the tour.

Arrangements are being made to have each feature filmed in the "movies," and all motorists taking part in the run will be formed in line at a point between Del Mar and the Torrey Pines grade. The camera will be located in the hills among the old pines and will "catch" the trekkers as they ascend the new paved grade.

Other pictures will be made at San Juan Capistrano, where the automobilists will halt for a moment in the shadows of the old mission. From there the combined San Diego and Los Angeles groups will move south to be filmed again as they reach the ocean.

At the exposition a huge panorama will be made from the tower, of the cars as they cross the Puente Cabrillo and again as they park in the Plaza de Panama on Automobile Day.

Deserted tables at home will testify on Thanksgiving Day that everybody who owns an automobile has decided to celebrate the opening of the paved state highway. Motorists will be surprised to find that several changes have been made in the route along the coast, the road now paralleling the ocean where formerly it penetrated the hills.

"Movie" stars representing the studios located in Southern California are planning to make the trip. Harold Lockwood, of the American company, located at Santa Barbara is one who expects to send his cream-colored King down the coast, and Dustin Farnum is planning to make the trip if business doesn't interfere with pleasure.

To get a "punch" in the "unveiling" ceremonies, Col. Ed. Fletcher of San Diego is arranging this detail. He is planning something brief but snappy to take place on the newest portion of the route, between Capistrano and the San Diego county line.

Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange, Oceanside, Fullerton and other coast cities are planning to send delegations along with the main body from Los Angeles.

Because of the necessity to reach San Diego before it gets dark, in order to give the camera men opportunity to get films of the trek, no stops will be made during the course of the parade, with the exception of the one for the ceremony by the ocean. Each delegation will be waiting to fall into line as the lead cars from Los Angeles approach.

Every motorist will be expected to take a basket lunch to be eaten at noon when the only stop is made. It is planned, then, to reach San Diego between three and four o'clock in the afternoon, allowing opportunity for a short rest before the time for the Thanksgiving turkey at the exposition. Elaborate plans are being consummated for the Motor Ball for the night of Automobile Day, November 27th.

EVEN BREAK FOR MUNICIPAL GARAGE

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Cleveland's $450,000 municipal storage yard for motor cars at Rockwell avenue and East Third street may make all of four hundredths of 1 per cent profit this year if the weather remains good and motorists see fit to leave their cars there. It will thereby take rank financially with the now deceased angleworm station at East Ninth street, and farming operations at Warrenville.

Service department records showed that from January 1 to September 1 a total of 10,263 cars had been parked in the yard. At 15 cents each, the income has been $1,539.45. The end of the year is expected to see a total income of $2000, but from this amount must be subtracted the pay of the $1.50-a-day keeper since June 1 and a portion of the $60, $65 and $100 monthly wages of three men who put in part of their time tagging cars.

PERFORMANCES BY A BLIND HORSE OF SANTA ANA ARE REMARKABLE

Laddie, Owned By Fritz
Schultz, Will Get His Picture In the Papers

While the Horse Review, a horse-man's magazine published at Chicago, and the Spirit of the West, a horse-man's magazine published at Des Moines, are running articles about the remarkable performances of Mille Bella at Victor, Mont., where the mare, a 19-year-old, untrained animal, made a mile in 2:46, and the remarkable performance of Velvet F, a 16-year-old trotting mare, who made 2:16 1/4 within a few weeks after she was started in training, it is well worth mentioning that Santa Ana has a horse that can give those remarkable performances cards and spades.

That horse is Laddie, owned by Fritz Schultz.

To begin with Laddie is blind. He has been blind ever since he was three years old, blindness coming from inflammation caused by hot weather in the east, where the horse was born and reared.

Added to that Laddie is 17 years old, and he never entered a contest until Fritz Schultz, who had been using the horse as a driving animal, took him into one of the local griving meets at the Santa Ana race track.

Laddie proved to be a willing racer, and though blind he stepped out as freely as though he had sight.

During the fair week blind Laddie won a heat in 2:31 1/2.

How's that for a blind, 17-year-old trotter?

Laddie has done better than that in training. Schultz has put him around the track for a 2:27 mile. When one considers Laddie's lack of sight the performance is one to cause wonder.

Laddie is improving right along, and Schultz may well be proud of the horse, for the animal has a world of good sense, carries himself well and is making a remarkable showing.

The horse is to be entered in races to be held at the Santa Ana race track Thanksgiving Day. If Laddie does as well as he has done, there is no question but that his picture will be shown in the horseman's magazines, where he well deserves to be shown.

Laddie is a gentle horse. He is on the streets here frequently, being often driven by Mr. Schultz's daughter. The fearless manner in which the horse travels gives no intimation of his blindness.

COLE WINS SPEED RACE WITH TRAIN

Shattering practically every known stock pleasure car highway speed record for the distance of 100 miles or more, A. E. Higgins, of Buffalo, N. Y., in November drove a 1916 Cole Eight stock touring car from Buffalo to Geneva, N. Y., a distance of 107 miles, in one hour and 55 minutes, defeating the famous Black Diamond Express, the prize train of the Lackawanna railroad, by fourteen minutes.

An average of 55.8 miles an hour for the entire trip was made including two stops and one delay, necessitated by a detour.

The race between the Cole Eight and the fast passenger train had been announced several days prior to the date scheduled for the run and people in all of the towns along the route were out to see the speeding auto as it passed through. Several of the large eastern motion picture companies had operators stationed along the course and pictures were taken of the car and the train as they sped by.

The engineer in charge of the Black Diamond knew that his train had been pitted against the Cole Eight and pressed the monster locomotive to its utmost. However, from the time the automobile and the train passed the city limits of Buffalo, which marked the actual start of the race, there was never a moment when the train could have been considered as a contender for the honors of the day.

It is estimated that not less than 10,000,000 acres of land upon which the guayule shrub grows profusely have been leased to Americans during the last two weeks. In some instances the land was leased in solid areas of 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 acres. The leases only cover the guayule shrub, and do not interfere in any manner with any other uses to which the owners of the land may wish to put their respective properties.

The guayule producing region is confined principally to the highlands of the states of Coahuila, Durango, Zacatecas and Nuevo Leon.

It is stated that this rush to obtain leases on land for the use of the guayule shrub that grows thereon is preliminary to the establishment of a number of new rubber factories in this section.

Whether or not Ertle's claim, which is at best only a technical one, is of sufficient weight to allow him to call himself champion, there is a generally expressed opinion in ring circles that the first man who gets a crack at the Kid over a championship distance will be the new champion.

Looking over Williams' record the past year proves it. Knockouts are conspicuous by their absence. The Kid hasn't been fighting with that old swing and rush that characterized his work when he lifted the crown off Johnny Coulon's head several years ago.

SANTA ANA MEN ON HUN. TIGER LINE-UPS IN BIG GAME

Saturday's Fray At Claremont
Will See Seven Local Men Playing

There is no use talking, it is simply impossible to keep Santa Ana and Orange county from shining when it comes to having athletes represented in various lines of sport. Seven Santa Anans will take part in the big Occidental-Pomona football game at Claremont Saturday, five of them on the Pomona line-up and two of them on that of Occidental. At the big Pacific Coast Amateur Boxing championships to be staged tomorrow and Saturday nights at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, three Orange county boys will be seen in the ring. The three ring experts are, Bill Jones, the Talbert heavyweight, and "Red" Matthews and Charles Heinrich of Anaheim.

The Santa Ana men who will appear in the Hun-Tiger tracas Saturday are, Pomona, Raitt, tackle; McFadden, quarter; Greathouse and Wallace, ends, and Shallenberger, guard; Occidental, "Shorty" Smith, half, and Bill Warren, sub-center.

A large delegation of football fans will journey to Claremont from Santa Ana Saturday. The majority of them will travel there by motor, the roads being good. As far as can be predicted, the weather will be good also.

The fact that there will be such a great preponderance of Santa Ana players in the line-ups will attract a great many of the local fans.

Ever since U. S. C. dropped American football for Rugby in 1911 the Pomona-Occidental contest has been the biggest game to be played in the south every year, and the game upon which the championship has depended.

This year will be no exception, for the team which wins Saturday will have possession of the trophy for the coming year. If the Tigers win they will be the undisputed owners. If the Huns win they will retain the cup for another year because of the triple tie which would then exist between Pomona, Occidental and Whittier. It is a conference rule that, in case of a tie, the trophy remains where it was the year before.

The Pomona management is preparing for a record-breaking crowd at Saturday's game. New bleachers have been erected on the north side of the field with a seating capacity of 1500, and more room than ever before has been provided for automobile parking. The Pomona Field can easily accommodate more than 5000 people, and it is expected that fully this many will witness the game.

On account of the trouble the Southern California managers are having this year with ticket counterfeiters, no advance sale tickets will be put on the market until Friday. Plainclothes men will be on the watch for spurious tickets Saturday, and it is expected that there will be no more trouble from this source.

'DELUGE IN FISTICANNIA: 3 LADS CLAIM BANTAM CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It never rains in Fisticannia. There's a deluge. To that already hopelessly clouded atmosphere enveloping the middleweight situation is now added an equally mucky condition of affairs in the bantam division. The championship is now claimed by three boys—all of whose claims are of sufficient weight to merit attention.

Kid Williams, the logical champion lost on a foul to Kewpie Ertle, St. Paul's entry, in a ten round bout. Then along comes a little southerner named Pal Moore—not the old lightweight Pal—with a decision over the Kid in eight rounds at Memphis.

Home Town Decisions

Sam'l Harris, the Baltimore Kid's clarion voiced manager claims that both reverses were "home town" decisions, and that the little Dane was robbed, victimized, rolled, stung and several other things.

The phonographic mutterings of Sam'l, however, do not alter the fact that the little champion who for years knocked 'em all dead is going back—if he hasn't already gone.

Looking over Williams' record the past year proves it. Knockouts are conspicuous by their absence. The Kid hasn't been fighting with that old swing and rush that characterized his work when he lifted the crown off Johnny Coulon's head several years ago.

Sufficient

Whether or not Ertle's claim, which is at best only a technical one, is of sufficient weight to allow him to call himself champion, there is a generally expressed opinion in ring circles that the first man who gets a crack at the Kid over a championship distance will be the new champion.

'DELUGE IN FISTICANNIA: 3 LADS CLAIM BANTAM CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It never rains in Fisticannia. There's a deluge. To that already hopelessly clouded atmosphere enveloping the middleweight situation is now added an equally mucky condition of affairs in the bantam division. The championship is now claimed by three boys—all of whose claims are of sufficient weight to merit attention.

Kid Williams, the logical champion lost on a foul to Kewpie Ertle, St. Paul's entry, in a ten round bout. Then along comes a little southerner named Pal Moore—not the old lightweight Pal—with a decision over the Kid in eight rounds at Memphis.

Home Town Decisions

Sam'l Harris, the Baltimore Kid's clarion voiced manager claims that both reverses were "home town" decisions, and that the little Dane was robbed, victimized, rolled, stung and several other things.

The phonographic mutterings of Sam'l, however, do not alter the fact that the little champion who for years knocked 'em all dead is going back—if he hasn't already gone.

Looking over Williams' record the past year proves it. Knockouts are conspicuous by their absence. The Kid hasn't been fighting with that old swing and rush that characterized his work when he lifted the crown off Johnny Coulon's head several years ago.

Sufficient

Whether or not Ertle's claim, which is at best only a technical one, is of sufficient weight to allow him to call himself champion, there is a generally expressed opinion in ring circles that the first man who gets a crack at the Kid over a championship distance will be the new champion.

When the news trickled in from Philadelphia not long ago that Louisiana had whipped the Kid in six rounds fans generally took it with a portion of salt. Then came his disqualification in his bout with Ertle when, according to reports, he was going bad. And lastly comes this victory of Moore's.

Let Him Howl

Williams' manager can howl till Gabriel toots his tube that they were all "native sons" decisions, but it won't alter the fact that Moore knocked Williams off his feet with clean punches.

Williams has been a great little champion—a slashing, tearing little two-faced demon who knew nothing when he got in the ring but fight. He never was a great boxer, but as a fighter he was a pocket edition of the Terrible Terry.

He won the championship in a clean fashion, knocking out Coulon in the ninth round after he had him almost from the start of the mill. It's a shame that he has to go under with a cloud of bickering and quarreling over his title.

STUDEBAKER EARNS
10 MILLIONS, 1915

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Earnings of the Studebaker Corporation for 1915 will fall slightly short of reaching the $10,000,000 mark, compared with a surplus for 1914 of $3,752,916, after allowing a charge-off of $402,698 for extraordinary expenses. On the $27,931,000 common stock now outstanding, these profits work out a per share surplus this year of somewhat over $30, compared with a trifle less than $15 last year. The larger part of this earning power of between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 is from domestic business entirely.

October was the record month, with shipments of 6009 cars. All these machines were for domestic consumption. The company is doing an excellent export business to South and Central America, Australia and the far East. Its domestic demand, especially in the east, has been very heavy, as the sales in Boston, Philadelphia and New York in the past year have doubled.

YALE LOAFERS AS HARVARD GETS INTO SHAPE FOR GAME

Great Battle To Be Kicking Duel Between Guernsey and Mahan

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—Yale practiced at the Harvard Stadium today in preparation for tomorrow's game. During the practice hour that the Varsity and subs used the field they took notice of the turf, grandstand, shadows, etc.

Otis Guernsey, Yale's star kicker, practiced field goaling from various angles.

Harvard spent the day in seclusion. The trainers say their eleven is in perfect condition, ready for a gruelling battle. Coach Langdon refused to predict a Harvard victory. Undergraduates expect a thrilling kicking duel between Guernsey and Mahan.

TIGER, HUN CLASH LURES LOCAL FANS

Tomorrow afternoon, as soon as ever telegraph wires can convey the message to Santa Ana, the Register will announce the results of the big championship football game between Occidental and Pomona. The contest is scheduled to begin at Claremont at 2:30 o'clock.

Several score of Santa Ana football fans, it is expected, will journey to Claremont tomorrow afternoon to witness the big game that is to decide this year's Southern California Intercollegiate championship.

A half-dozen heroes of former Orange county eridion contests, notably among them "Battle" Shipkey, the mammoth Occidental tackle, who hails from Orange, are in tomorrow's up-and-down Santa Anas would be interested in seeing the big game for this reason if for no other.

MYSTERY AUTOIST RAMS FIRE PLUG

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Fifty-six thousand cubic feet of water worth about $294 according to the prevailing price, went to waste yesterday afternoon along several gutters downtown and drenched many pedestrians.

A careless motorist, name unknown, backed his machine against a fire plug on Hill street, between Sixth and Seventh, breaking the plug off flush with the sidewalk. For twenty minutes the water gushed forth, a six inch stream shooting, geyser like, fully fifty feet into the air.

Hill street, in that vicinity, took on the appearance of flood time. The flow of water made it necessary to lay planks for bridges to cross the street. Traffic officers had to assist and in some instances carry women across. Traffic was impeded as far as Eighth and Broadway.

Assistant Superintendent Thomas Brooks said workmen were unable to get to the broken plug to shut off the water at the stop cock until the pressure in the entire Hill street main was reduced. It was the fifth plug broken by an automobile in the past four months.

Youth, With Body Nearly Severed, Soon to Recover

Physicians Marvel At Great Vitality of Boy Horribly Injured

Physicians are marveling at the splendid vitality and recuperative powers of Benito Vasquez, the 19-year-old boy who was near being cut to death by a rapidly revolving circular saw near Garden Grove on October 30. Despite the youth's frightful injuries, it is believed that Vasquez will be able to leave the Garden Grove hospital within two weeks.

Vasquez sustained his horrible injuries when the saw, near which he was working, jumped out of place. The boy was in a stooping position at the time, placing blocks of wood in position for the blade.

The flying saw caught the boy in the left shoulder and cut a ten-inch gash straight down toward Vasquez's heart, severing all the muscles during its progress.

In saving himself, Vasquez also received a severe laceration on the right shoulder, as well as other injuries.

Doctors worked over Vasquez for three and a half hours. Some of the youth's wounds were so serious that wire had to be resorted to in bringing the torn ligaments together.

Vasquez's mind was perfectly clear when he came out from under the influence of the anesthetic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Hoping to sell high priced eggs to the allies, egg speculators have stored one billion eggs in twenty-four cold storage plants, it became known today. This amount is enough to give everybody in the country ten eggs. The allies failed to purchase. As mild winter becomes rigorous prices will soon fall to twenty cents a dozen on cold storage product, it is believed.

WOULD PREVENT BORDEN HAVING PATENTS IN TRABUCO

Protest Against Private Title In Canyon Protested By Forest Service

The Federal forest reserve service through its legal department has filed a protest with the United States Land Office in Los Angeles against granting patents to Gail Borden for mining claims in the Trabuco canyon in the Santa Ana mountains.

The forest service proposes to make an effort to keep title to the canyon, which is one of the most beautiful in Southern California, for the public.

Borden is successor in interest to the Santa Ana Tin Mining Company, which years ago filed mining locations in the canyon on a boom idea that there was tin there. As a tin mining proposition the mines were an absolute fizzle. The promoters then turned the tide of talk toward gold and silver, and the development of the claims as a group through the installation of a mill and other equipment was upon the theory that the canyon really furnished a basis for mining claims.

While there is no definite information obtainable here, it is understood that the basis of the protest by the forest service is that the claims upon which patents are asked have no real mineral value.

The fear that has been expressed here was that Borden might get patents on his claims, which cover the finest portion of the wooded canyon and cover it from the steep mountain side on one side to the steep mountain side on the other, and be able to block travel up the canyon except upon whatever conditions he might impose for travel through his property. In order to prevent such a situation, in view of the possibility that Borden may get his patents, the Board of Supervisors of this county through Supervisor Jasper Leck has already taken action to have a county road declared along a strip up the canyon through the Borden locations. When that strip is declared a county road it will be impossible for Borden to shut out the public from the portion of the canyon above the Borden claims.

ARMY FLIERS GO AT AVERAGE 90 MILES HOUR

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 19.—Six army aviators today departed for Fort Sam Houston, 450 miles distant, flying. Motorcycles followed them, carrying repair apparatus. Big auto trucks carried supplies.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 19.—The six army fliers who are en route to Fort Sam Houston, arrived here today. They averaged 90 miles an hour. Flying two abreast, the aviators alighted with military precision. During the trip they averaged a 2500-foot altitude, rising 5000 feet near here when dodging air currents. The motor convoys arrived three hours later.

REVIVAL SPEECH IS HIT AT SAN PEDRO

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 19.—"We don't need these kind of fellows to come here and tell us that stuff," said former State Treasurer E. D. Roberts local banker, last night at a banquet of the Merchants' Association, in an attack on the methods of Evangelists Brown and Curry, now conducting a revival here. Loud applause from the business men present greeted the arraignment.

"We are no worse than any other town," he continued. "These fellows come into a town, tear the town to pieces, get us all stirred up, advertise their view of us to the world, and get $1200 for doing it."

Mr. Roberts also quoted Brown and Curry as having made remarks derogatory to San Bernardino women in general. The evangelists, who seemed to have been advised immediately of Mr. Roberts' statements, denied the language attributed to them in the latter case.

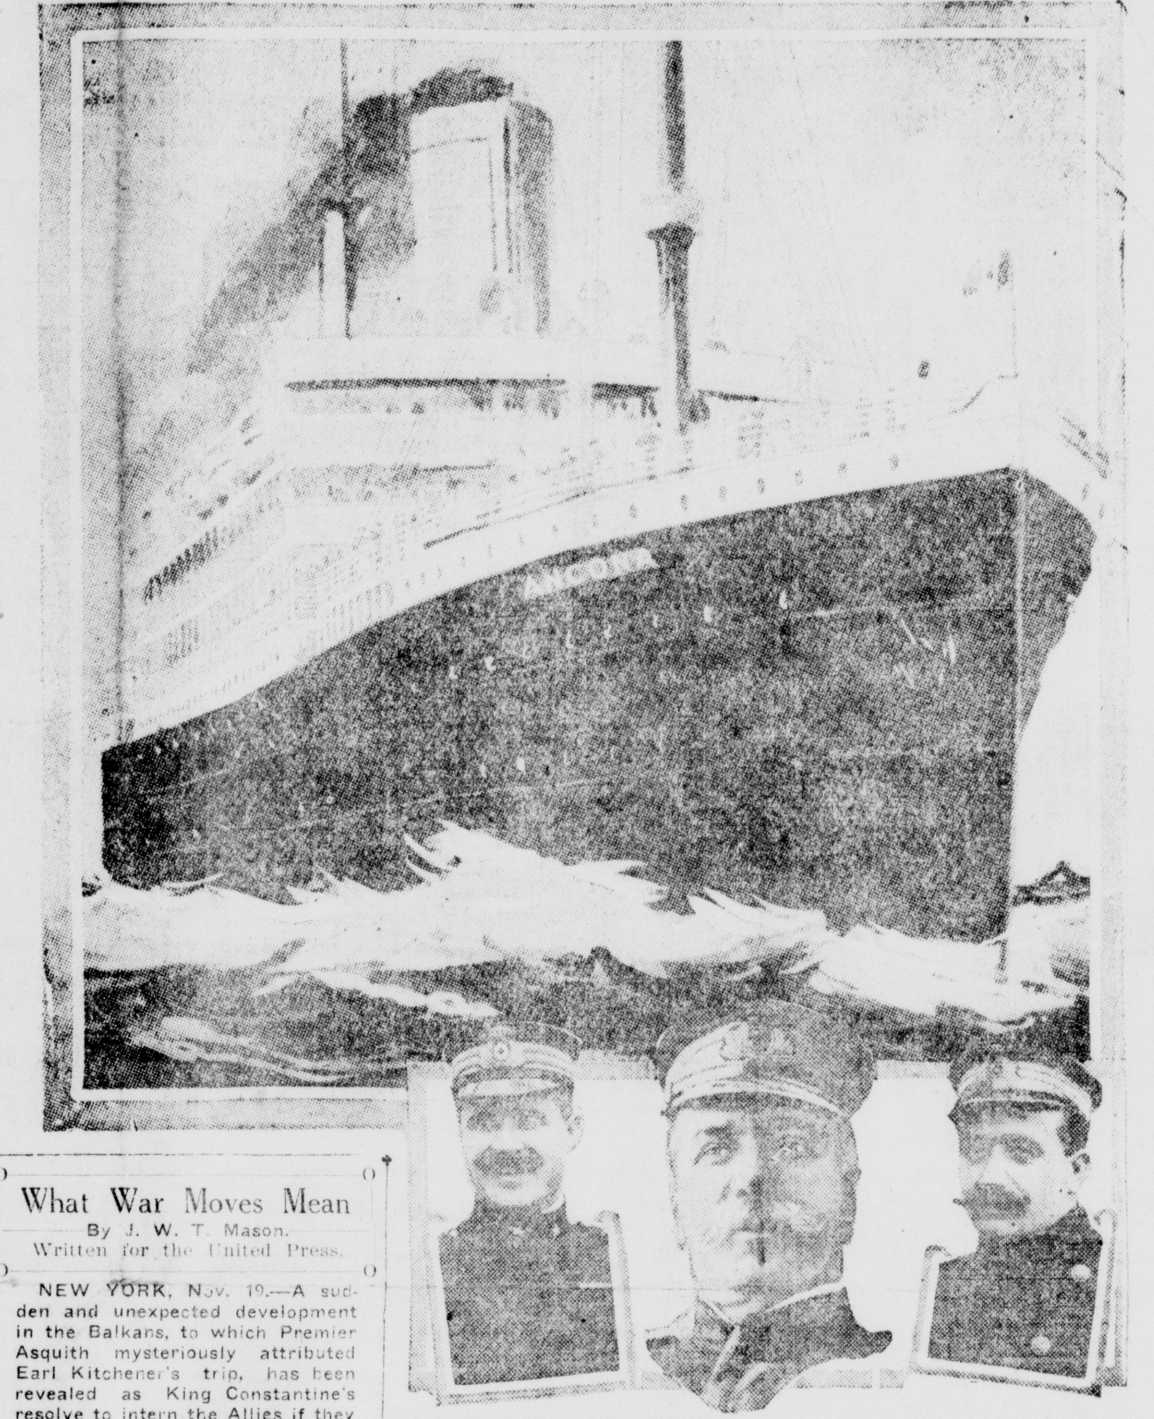

Rev. John Brown said that he thought Mr. Roberts' antagonism grew out of the fact that the latter wanted a "wet" town, while they were working for prohibition.

DEDICATE LEE STATUE
GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 19.—To day, just 52 years after President Lincoln made his immortal address here, the battle statue of General Robert E. Lee is to be dedicated.

HERE is shown one of the first pictures of the Italian liner Ancona to arrive in the United States. The vessel, bound for this country with 1700 passengers, was sunk by an Austrian submarine off the coast of Sicily, November 8. The Austrians have notified the State Department that all the procedure of the sinking was in accordance with international law. Dr. Cecile Greil, the American woman survivor, made an affidavit which reached Washington yesterday contradicting the claims of the Austrian government. The United States plans a vigorous protest to the Austrians. The three men below, from left to right, are Dr. Stocco, ship surgeon; Captain Pietro Massardo, and Italo Zolazzi, chief officer.

HILLSTROM DIES IN FIGHTING MAD FURY

Severely Wounds Guard With Broomhandle Concealed In Death Cell

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 19.—Fighting with insane fury, Joseph Hillstrom, Industrial Worker of the World, died before the state firing squad in the penitentiary yard at 7:42 this morning.

Hillstrom paid the penalty for murdering J. G. Morrison and Arling Morrison, grocers, during a hold-up.

Eleventh hour pleas of President Wilson and the Swedish minister failed to obtain an additional delay.

High officials sought a delay of execution at the request of the Swedish government, alleging that the trial had been unfair. Hillstrom was a Swedish subject.

Broom Handle in Cell
In an unknown manner Hillstrom had concealed a broom handle in the death cell.

The doomed man breakfasted on bacon and eggs, toast and coffee. He appeared highly nervous.

The guards entered. One guard was severely cut about the head and face. Finally the I. W. W. poet was overpowered.

"I'll Die Fighting"
Hillstrom screamed, "I'll die fighting, and not like a coward."

His arms were pinioned to his sides. Suddenly Hillstrom became calm. He refused to be blindfolded.

Despite the murderer's protests, the heavy blindfold was adjusted. Warden Pratt led the death march. Two doctors brought up the rear guard.

Hillstrom walked to the death chair with a swinging stride. In passing the thirty-three witnesses Hillstrom again struggled, attempting to free his arms and remove his blindfold.

Rifles Yawn From Shop
Hillstrom was placed in a big congress chair, twenty paces from the blacksmith shop. The muzzles of the five rifles glittered from holes in the shop door.

Hillstrom was tied into the chair. He stretched his lips. The two physicians tested his heart; it was pumping hard. Then a white target was pinned above his head.

Shrieks "Let 'er Go"
Sheriff Corless shouted, "Aim."

Hillstrom shrieked, "Fire! Let 'er go!"

The convicted slayer grinned horribly.

Sheriff Corless gave the command.

YALE, HARVARD ALL SET FOR BIG MELEE

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The climax of the 1915 football season—one of the most weird the East has seen in years—will be reached tomorrow at Cambridge when Harvard and Yale resume their age-worn scramble on the gridiron.

It matters but little, apparently, that each team has been defeated this year, and is no longer in the championship running. The Yale-Harvard game is THE game of the season, principally because it's the Yale-Harvard game. It is doubtful if a Cornell-Fitt game could arouse the tremendous enthusiasm that is attendant on tomorrow's struggle. Had both lost every game this season, it would still be the big game of the season, looking through Eastern eyes.

Hardly a Battle
The game tomorrow can hardly be termed a battle. It will, barring miracles, be a massacre, with Percy Haughton's big Crimson eleven on the prodding end. Yale is completing the worst season in her history. Harvard has been defeated this year—the first time in three years, but the Crimson demonstrated two weeks ago that it still has a man-sized wallop in either mitt by defeating the best eleven Princeton has put out in years. Eddie Mahan is a whole team in himself—190 pounds of whirling, swirling, scratching football ability. Against the tall Harvard captain Yale has to offer eleven young men who have been licked by Colgate, by Virginia, by Brown, and by W. & J., already this season.

A tremendous crowd will see the game. Old Harvard grads will trek back to Boston to gloat over a licking. Yale grads will go back to hope, and after hope is gone, to ruminate over the "old days," when the Blue

AGED PROSPECTOR DYING, IS FOUND

BRAWLEY, Nov. 19.—Carrying his shoes in his hands, with his trousers rolled high above his knees and his bare feet blistered by contact with sand, Heine Zimmerman, 50, of Alhambra, the prospector who has been lost in the waterless wastes beyond Kane's Springs since last Friday, was found in a crazed condition late Tuesday by Tom Marshall of Brawley.

His reason shattered by the terrific thirst brought on by being without water since Friday, he believed that he was wading in a river. His mouth and throat were clogged with sand, his delusion had led him to believe that he could drink the grains.

He was taken by Marshall to the camp by the oil spring, where he was revived.

In a rational moment yesterday he conversed with difficulty, owing to the condition of his mouth and throat, of his wanderings since Friday, when he became separated from his companion, who was found exhausted at Harper's Wells Monday.

Unaware that his partner, whose name he knew only as "Jim," had reached water and safety, Zimmerman resolutely searched toward the wildest stretch of the desert. Walking in gradually widening circles for five days and four nights, he was without food or water.

He will be cared for at the oil camp until his condition will permit his removal to Brawley.

UNDERWRITERS SCORES GREAT L. A. FIRE LOSS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Attributing the raise in insurance rates in Los Angeles, which put an additional tax of upwards of $250,000 on property owners, to the excessive fire hazard here, and indirectly placing the blame for the heavy increase in losses on the fire department, R. W. Osborn, president of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific of San Francisco, last night at a meeting of the local Underwriters' Association, at the Bristol Cafe, called upon the citizens of this city to rectify conditions which have led to the higher rates.

While he did not refer to Fire Chief Archie E. Eley as inefficient, or openly charge that it is due to an inefficient fire department that the fire loss runs into astonishing figures, President Osborn did state that investigation has shown that there is an unusual number of total losses and that for a series of years there has been an abnormal loss, which leads to the conclusion, to quote his exact words, "that there is something rotten in Denmark."

FORD RETURNED AS MAYOR OF RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 19.—Mayor Oscar Ford was re-elected Tuesday to the office of mayor by a plurality of 41 votes. Intense excitement prevailed until the results of the mayoralty race were definitely known.

When the returns from the tenth precinct showed, Tuesday night, 195 votes for Zimmerman and only 58 for Ford the followers of the mayor were frankly gloomy. It looked like certain defeat. Precinct No. 3, however, saved the day, giving the mayor 158 votes and his opponent 110.

One of the surprises of the election was the light vote polled by the third aspirant for mayoralty honors, B. B. Bush. His total was only 447, about a tenth of the total cast for mayor.

Another surprise to many was the defeat of City Treasurer Gunsolus by N. A. Jacobs, the latter's plurality being 624. City Auditor Prior defeated Arthur D. Nichols by a majority of 1010.

Councilman A. J. Stalder was defeated by J. T. Jarvis in the second ward by a majority of 122 votes. Councilman C. F. Rohrer defeated F. W. Parsons in the first ward by a majority of 20 votes. Councilman M. M. Strickler defeated C. Saries in the fifth ward by a majority of 79 votes.

Of the six aspirants for place on the school board, H. M. May, John I. Esigate and Mrs. Marie S. Brown were elected. Walter C. Davidson was elected to fill the unexpired term of W. A. Avey.

Only about 60 per cent of the registered vote was cast, the registered vote being about 7500 and the total of the votes cast for mayor, 4562. City Clerk H. C. Cree, who was unopposed, polled 4,014 votes.

ARE TO HASTEN ORNAMENTAL LIGHTING

Finley, Minter and Nickey Is Committee to Aid Trust-
tees on the Project

At a meeting last night Colonel S. H. Finley, C. W. Minter and F. P. Nickey were appointed as a committee to work with the city trustees in showing the ornamental lighting project through to the earliest possible completion. This committee with the trustees will select the kind of lights and the kind of posts to be used. The proposal for ornamental lights has come to a head now, and the steps toward the winding up of the plans for modern street lighting in the business section are to be taken without delay.

E. A. White, E. B. Smith, A. J. Crookshank and F. P. Nickey, members of the public lighting committee, met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night. Others present were J. C. Metzgar, Mayor A. J. Visel, S. H. Finley, E. D. Waffle, G. W. Minter and A. N. Zerman.

Reports showed that over 90 per cent of the frontage on Fourth and Main streets in the district proposed to be lighted with ornamental

THAT TREATMENT BY NATURE'S METHOD

Every Breath of Hyomei Carries Healing Medicated Air to the Infected Membrane.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it with sprays, lotions, and the like. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would probably have said the only way to help catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with a simple preparation called Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day successfully treat yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not give permanent relief, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained at any time for a trifling sum. It is more economical than all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Rowley Drug Company has sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more they sell the more convinced they are that they are perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not relieve.

lights has been signed up to an agreement under which the property owners will pay for the installation of the lights, the city to pay for the electricity used. It was stated that one or two signers would be secured today. Vrooman Act proceedings will be used upon all property owners not signing, so that the cost of the lights will be distributed over the entire territory covered.

The committee of three selected last night is to consult with the City Trustees, and with them advise in the selection of the kind of posts to be used and in the determination of whether gas or electric lights shall be used.

PRIZE BEAUTIES HERE IN BIG FILM

A Nestor feature extraordinary, presenting Eddie Lyons, Victoria Forde, Lee Moran and winners of the Universal National Beauty contest, in a brilliant comedy production, entitled "Lizzie and the Beauty Contest," is the big two-reel attraction at the Lyric Theater Saturday afternoon performances. The most beautiful girl from each state will be shown in the picture. For instance, if you are from Iowa you will see Miss Madge Henry, who was declared the most beautiful girl in the entire state. From Illinois three girls tied for the honor, being Miss Irene O'Connor, Miss Anna Nessel and Miss Gwendolyn Morgan; South Dakota, Miss Cecelia Bambeck; Nebraska, Miss Opal Crumbliss, etc. Each state is represented in the picture and no matter what state you are from you will see your old state's most beautiful girl.

Another headliner attraction will be Santa Ana's favorite matinee idol, J. Warren Kerrigan, in "A Kentucky Idol," a romance of the Blue Grass State. With other good photo-plays, the lover of the silent art will find a real interesting program of enjoyable pictures.

FAIR FUND IN L. A. REACHES $40,917 CASH

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—With the total cash contributions to date totaling just $40,917.13, and the sum of $58,895 guaranteed, a considerable deficit still remains to be collected by the general committee for the continuance of the San Diego exposition. In order to discuss ways and means, the committee members and all interested in securing subscriptions will hold a meeting today at 4 p. m. in Parlor F, Alexandria Hotel.

With the county appropriation of $35,000 added to the sum already raised and pledged, a trifle less than $15,000 must be secured. It is believed that, with a little more work, the $150,000 mark will soon be reached.

5 NAMED FOR L. A. MOVIE CENSOR BOARD

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Mayor Sebastian yesterday announced the names of the five persons whom he will appoint to fill vacancies on the Board of Moving Picture Censors. The appointees decided upon are Austin C. Shafer, a former member of the City Council and a member of the G. A. R.; Neal P. Olsen, secretary of the Retail Grocers' Association; Clarence Ferguson of the Los Angeles Saddlery Company; Mrs. E. E. Sheridan, active in women's club work; Mrs. Grace Mellus Thomas, also a club worker.

The City Council today was scheduled to be asked by the mayor to confirm the appointments in order that the censor board may continue its work without interruption. Mayor Sebastian also announced that he had decided to appoint Stephen Monteleone to succeed Louis M. Cole on the Municipal Industrial Commission. In view of his recent appointment, Mr. Cole resigned from the Industrial Commission.

CRANBERRIES TO BE SOLD BY THE POUND

With the opening of the cranberry season County Sealer of Weights and Measures George McPhee has issued warning to dealers all over the county that this fruit must be sold by the pound and not by the quart, as has been the custom, as the liquid quart holds about ten cubic inches less than the dry quart and when cranberries are sold by the quart, dry measure should be used.

Dry measure is a legal measure, however, but it is not used in Southern California, and when cranberries are sold by the liquid quart, the consumer gets about 15 per cent less than he is entitled to.

McPhee says he issued the same warning last year and believed the notification was understood and respected, but already this season he has found two dealers who were offering cranberries by the liquid quart and who appeared to have forgotten the regulatory instructions given them twelve months ago.

Sealer McPhee is also sending out notices to all dealers in the county notifying them of the amendment to the Net Container Act which provides that in future in the sale of any commodity within the provisions of the act which is in a container and weighs more than two ounces net, the net weight of the contents shall be plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside or top of the container.

The former act as passed in 1913, exempted all articles selling for ten cents or under at retail, and this notice is being sent out to correct the mistaken impression a great many dealers seem to have that the former act is still in effect.

GAME SLAUGHTER IS CAUSE BILLION LOSS

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Destruction of birds, according to Colonel C. C. Shields, president of the League of American Sportsmen, costs the United States a billion dollars a year. Col. Shields made the assertion in an address before the Chicago chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday.

"Cotton growers," he said, "lose $100,000,000 a year by the boll weevil. Why? Because the quail, the prairie chickens, the meadow larks and other birds which were formerly there in millions have been swept away by thoughtless, reckless men and boys."

YOUNG ASTOR ROBBED OF $230 IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Police headquarters yesterday admitted that Vincent Astor, one of its honor legion honorary members, had been robbed of $230 and his membership card in that organization. The robbery occurred Tuesday night as Astor and several friends were leaving the Belasco Theater. Four or five well-dressed young men "jostled" the young millionaire in the lobby. A suspect was arrested, but was discharged, Mr. Astor not appearing.

CORRESPONDENCE

A familiar picture in newspaper and magazine advertising is that of a working man held down to some poorly paid job because of his lack of effort and ambition. The attempt is made to convey the idea that by taking some correspondence school course he could fit himself to rise. While many of these hopes prove illusory, there are also many cases where such study is a means to a bigger opportunity.

Young people who wish to rise must get out of the beaten track. They are too apt to see some position a little above them that they think they might inherit in case of a death or resignation. So they may wait many years for an opening that never comes.

If they really want larger responsibilities they must fit themselves for the larger task. The correspondence course, if wisely chosen, may be the means of opening a new door. The great trouble with it is that so many young people take courses for which they are not fitted.

Many young men try by correspondence to gain entrance to some very difficult field. For these callings, years at a professional or technical school give none too much preparation. After working evenings for a year or two the student has a smattering of his subject. But it would be a pure gamble to give up his regular salary on such remote chances. He quits study and settles down to a lifetime at some poorly paid work. Had he attempted something within his reach the results would have been far different.

One of the most useful kinds of correspondence courses would be those provided now by many agricultural schools. Young farmers might as well study an hour evenings as yawn around and go to bed at nine o'clock. They would learn scientific facts they could never get from their fathers or the home traditions of the neighborhood. There is little excuse for unsuccessful farm work in these days when scientific information is so freely offered.

HAZARDS OF FOOTBALL

Every season at this time of year one used to read much about the perils of football. There was a chorus of attack on the slaughter of our college and high school innocents. The game was denounced as merely beefy and brutal.

One scarcely sees a line of that this fall. Yet there are always about the usual number of football accidents. In spite of attempts to open up the play, it will always be a game for strong boys, capable of giving and taking hard knocks.

Perhaps the European war has made us indifferent to the chances of death and accident lying all around us. With thousands dying daily in the trenches, the sacrifice of a few tacklers and quarterbacks seems a mere incident. The intimate circle of friends may be indignant, but no popular feeling is aroused.

The long story of automobile accidents every day may be a factor. With father and mother doing forty miles an hour out on the motor road, they can't say much about the son who risks having his spine snapped by a rough tackle.

Swimming causes a hundred times more fatalities than football. But no one ever started a crusade against water sports.

The American people are a nation of chance takers. They hate to quit on anything on which their heart becomes set, and only in their cooler moments do they weigh chances. They dislike to admit in public that they are afraid of anything.

They would live just as happily if they formed the daily habit of taking more careful precautions. Swimming, by beginners at least, could be protected by having regular provision of life guards. The motor roads could be made comparatively safe by a drastic enforcement of existing laws. Football might be reformed into the game as played in England, where accidents are comparatively few.

But efforts for such precautions are contrary to the national temperament. People who never had a serious accident are sustained by the cheerful optimism that nothing ever will happen.

The Passing of the Home

The common question of children, "what shall I do now?" or "I have no one to play with," grows with the years into a lack of purpose, unrest, seeking they know not what. That feeling is broadcast today. It seems to be the spirit of the times, and it is not only the children who are bored because no one is amusing them, or diverting them, the men and women are asking, "what can we do? where can we go? who can we ask to come in?" They are all seeking something or somebody to add to their lives. That thought generally precludes the knowledge that there is within ourselves all joy and an endless interest, and the very act of seeking to be amused dulls the capacity for enveloping one's self.

It is this in the modern man and woman that is spoiling the home. It makes the unhappy butterfly type of woman, or a drudge in a rut because there is no fixed purpose or plan. They do not feel the responsibility of bringing something interesting and new into the home, so the individual home has been constantly losing its distinctive character.

Years ago young people and old spent the greater part of their time in their own home. Today most of their time is spent outside. The one idea seems to be, to get away. Moving pictures have proved a great filler in, when all other resources fail.

A letter published in one of the daily papers emphasizes the dangers when the restraining home influence is removed. It was written in a feeble shaky hand and was stained with blood. It read: "To all whom it may concern. Maybe I am insane. Maybe I am not. Let the men of America cut out of their lives the artificial life, the restaurant life, smoking and drinking among women especially, and such ends as this never will be. Breed in the little girls the love of home so that they may see and breed their children when women. I am happy. No sensation can now reach my loved wife. No stage, no restaurant, and no automobile which I cannot provide—but peace. Goodbye mother and brothers. By death I wipe out the sin of life. Let my bleeding heart say to the people, if men would only beg their wives to live within their means and modestly, America would be a Paradise and each woman would not set another as an example."

What a commentary on the gay, homeless life of today. Is it not a call to the unwary of the dangers of the passing of the home. "No stage, no restaurant, no automobile." We all need recreation, pleasure, diversion, but moderation in all things. "Breed in the little girls (and I would add boys) the love of home." In those four letters is the secret of all protection and happiness.

ANNUAL THANK OFFERING

Bountiful Supper and Review Delightful Book—First Congregational

The annual thank offering meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Congregational church was held in the church parlors Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

It was a pleasure and help to have the men, as well as the women, present at this meeting and to see such a goodly number sit down to the bountiful supper, which was served at the beginning of the evening's entertainment by the missionary committee, which consisted of Meses. John Cochran, P. F. Schrock, W. B. Tedford, C. F. Crose and P. L. Topie.

The program of the evening was given after supper in the church parlors and was opened with devotional service, led by Mrs. C. F. Crose. The delightful book, "Around the World With Jack and Janet," was interestingly reviewed under the direction of Miss Bird Henry; Jack and Janet in Egypt, Miss Henry; In Salon and India, Miss Mabel Wiseman; National Aids of India, Ralph Beals; A Letter From Jack From Madras and Bombay, Frank Chapman; A Letter From Janet in Benares and Calcutta, Dorothy Mead; Whistling solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Miss Rena Cranston; Jack and Janet in Burmah and Rangoon, Ralph Cole; poem on China (Holmes) read by Helen Hargett; Chinese hymns, Ralph Beals; Jack and Janet in China, Margaret Blake; solo, "America for Me" (Van Dyke), sung by Carol Van Cleave; post card pictures of Korea, Japan and Honolulu, shown by the radio-scope, which closed the interesting program.

Just Sweet Sixteen
Being just sixteen held many joys for Miss Mildred Kimbro yesterday, one of the pleasant features of the day being the birthday party given in her honor by her aunt, Mrs. Barry McPhee, at her new home. The friends of Miss Mildred gathered in the afternoon and happily spent the time playing dice, for which Miss Corinne Skiles won the first prize, a pretty picture in a gold frame. The consolation was taken by Miss Margaret Kimbro.

During the afternoon Mrs. McPhee rendered a pleasing vocal solo and Mrs. Kimbro gave a joyous reading about a little girl at the circus.

At 5 o'clock supper was served on a table centered with red roses and ferns, a lovely cake upon which twinkled sixteen red candles being a feature. Miss Mildred received a number of pretty gifts to further commemorate the day.

Those present were Meses Corinne Skiles, Dorothy Thacker, Lucina Neff, Florence Neff, Bernice King, Mildred and Margaret Kimbro.

TURKEY SUPPER

Men of Fraternal Brotherhood Do Themselves Proud In Paying Debt to Women

About 150 people, members, visiting friends and those taking part in the various excellent programs during the contest which has been waging in Santa Ana Lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood, were served with turkey and all its accessories last evening in M. W. A. hall.

The men, who lost in the contest, were the hosts and right well did they carry out their obligations. The long tables were decorated with Cecile Brunner roses and ferns and the younger men of the lodge made waiters par excellence. During supper, the Santa Ana Club quartet, composed of Meses, Wallace brothers, Stewart and Kirkpatrick, rendered several enjoyable selections.

Following the supper, a brief session was held, during which the secretary, Mrs. Helene Galbraith, read a letter from the supreme secretary, telling of the numerous things for which the members should feel grateful at this Thanksgiving time and giving figures showing the magnificent financial standing of the Brotherhood.

It was decided that there will be no meeting next Thursday evening as that is Thanksgiving day.

Dancing concluded the evening's pleasures. Twenty-seven members were present from Olinda.

The fathers' meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Intermediate School is postponed to the evening of December 8, on account of the holiday season.

A recital of high order will be given Friday evening, November 26, in the auditorium of the Intermediate school, the proceeds to be used for the cafeteria. The cafeteria has been more successful than expected by its most ardent supporters. It seems to fill a long-felt need. The food is the best that can be bought and well cooked. No order costs above four cents except ice cream. A substantial meal consisting of excellent soup, mashed potatoes and brown gravy, bread and butter can be obtained for ten cents.

EBELL BIRTHDAY PARTY

Luncheon on Twenty-first Anniversary Brought Back Pioneer Ebell Days

The Santa Ana Valley Ebell Society celebrated yesterday with befitting ceremonies a most important event in history—its twenty-first birthday. Twenty-one years ago, at the call of Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, about twenty women assembled at the home of Mrs. J. R. Medlock and organized the local chapter of the Ebell Society, which claims now a membership of nearly four hundred. Something over two hundred of these women and their guests assembled at Elks' Hall yesterday, where a most enjoyable luncheon was followed by an informal reception, honoring Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, the first president of the Santa Ana Ebell; Mrs. E. D. Knight, state president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Frank Russell, the state Federation corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. J. Lawton, president and a charter member of the society.

The luncheon, which was possessed of that particularly delightful flavor that goes with nothing except genuine home cooking, was prepared entirely by the Day Nursery committee, consisting of Mrs. E. M. Nealley, chairman, Mesdames A. H. Lyon, L. J. Carden, Samuel W. Nau, George S. Briggs, P. A. Robinson, Meses Lida Crookshank and Lida Minter. These ladies were assisted in serving by the Ebell ushers and other club members.

The reception was held upstairs in the large hall, where, after the club women had the pleasure of greeting the interesting visitors and the charter members who were in the receiving line, a brief and thoroughly enjoyable program was given.

Mr. Raymond Miles sang Cadman's "At Dawn," and in response to a hearty encore gave "The Shooey-Shoo," a charming Irish melody.

Mrs. A. J. Padgham and Mr. Alan Revill, two artists whom Santa Anans are always delighted to hear, gave two piano duets, Hungarian melodies, by Brown.

Mrs. W. F. Crose, the Ebell president, in a happy little speech of welcome, introduced the state president, Mrs. Knight, who gave a most interesting talk on "The Spirit of Federation." This is the first time local clubwomen have had the privilege of greeting Mrs. Knight and her talk, which was something a little out of the ordinary in thoughtfulness and clever application, coupled with her very evident sincerity, won her audience completely.

Mrs. Knight was followed by Mrs. Bartlett, who expressed her extreme gratification at the growth and progress of the club of which she is the honored and most well-beloved "mother." The speaker gave some most interesting and delightful reminiscences of the club's early days when she said, the burdens of the world at large had not begun to rest so heavily upon the shoulders of women, who had then, perhaps, more time for the intimate sharing of each other's personal joys and sorrows.

Mrs. Bartlett is possessed of a rare and delightful degree of charm and personal magnetism. Her smile has a sunny warmth that makes it a benediction and it was a privilege and a pleasure to see and hear her.

Mrs. Russell, the state corresponding secretary, gave a brief and especially happy little greeting, and Mrs. A. J. Lawton, past-president of Santa Ana Ebell and now president of the Southern District, warmly congratulated the Society on having reached its majority under such favorable circumstances, and expressed her sincere good wishes for its future growth.

Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Lawton were presented with beautiful bouquets of pink Cecile Brunner roses and maidenhair fern, which they graciously acknowledged.

One of the most genuinely delightful numbers on the program was reserved for the last when Mrs. James S. Rice, whose beautiful soprano has been a joy and a delight at every Ebell festivity since she became one of its charter members, sang with sweet appropriateness Carrie Jacobs Bond's beautiful song, "When It Comes to the Close of a Perfect Day," and instead of the encore which was demanded of her, Mrs. Rice with one of her heart-warming smiles, said to her audience, "wouldn't you all like to join me in singing a verse from 'Auld Lang Syne'?" and instantly the large assemblage of women arose and joined in the good old song.

Altogether it was a very happy and most satisfactory birthday party and having now attained its legal majority Ebell hopes for a bright future with every year bearing a record of good work well done.

PRETY HOME WEDDING

Miss Arlene Martin, Daughter Santa Ana, Weds Elza Sickles Last Evening

A very pretty home wedding, attended by about thirty-five relatives and friends, marked the nuptials last evening of Miss Arlene Isabel Martin, daughter of Mrs. Belle Martin, of 1117 West Third street and Elza Sickles of 21 Centro.

The home was transformed into a bower of red and green, smilax and holly being used in profusion. The young couple stood under a smilax canopy from which was suspended a bell covered with holly berries. They were preceded to their station by little Miss Clara Backs, of Anaheim, who scattered white rose petals in the bride's path from a dainty green basket.

The bride wore a becoming dress of cream albatross, trimmed with lace and pearls and carried a shower of white carnations and ferns. Rev. E. J. Inwood performed the impressive service of the First M. E. Church.

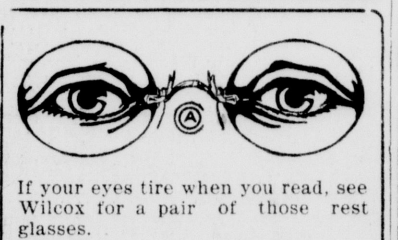

Following the marriage a bountiful welcome supper was served, carrying out the red and green color tints. Mr. and Mrs. Sickles received many nice gifts from their many friends. They left for a wedding trip to Mt. Lowe and other points, returning to stay here two weeks with the bride's mother, after which they will reside at El Centro.

Their many friends will wish them all happiness and prosperity in their new life.

SAYS MEXICANS SWARMING TO RIVERSIDE

Police State More Wandering Reons There Than Ever Before

Riverside Enterprise: Police officers in Riverside are prepared to care for the influx of Mexicans and see that the law-breakers are quickly apprehended. Chief Corrington reports more Mexicans in Riverside at the present time than in many years. From all directions they seem to have come. Proprietors of the rooming houses where the Mexicans are wont to stay over night, are filled to capacity each night and rude sleeping arrangements are placed in the halls where possible. At Casa Blanca the conditions are crowded. There are not enough houses to accommodate the Mexicans and many are sleeping in tents. They start a campfire in front of the tents for heat and eat the little food they have on primitive tables. Where the men and women are coming from and why they are locating in and about Riverside no person seems to know. The landlady of one rooming house says that many have come directly from Mexico as they still carry Mexican coins and wish to pay for their lodging with these.

Some shoplifting and petty thievery has been laid to the floating Mexicans. Three men were arrested here and in San Bernardino yesterday, charged with taking a number of small articles from Riverside stores. Employees of the Southern Pacific railroad encounter many men and a few women wearing overalls, all endeavoring to get from the Mexican line in Arizona to Southern California. These refugees secretly hide themselves in freight trains. They hide along the track and board trains in such numbers that the train crew cannot find all of them. At Indio the officers have had an unusual number of offenders to contend with. There have been several small fights. While trying to arrest an unknown Mexican Sunday a special Southern Pacific officer shot and killed a Mexican who threatened to attack him. It is said that all of the men stealing rides are armed and will fight any person trying to arrest them. Officers have found that their common weapon is a knife. These are of all lengths and are usually sharp as razors.

The cement plants near Colton and Riverside attract some anxious to secure employment. They have but little money and are obliged to beat their way.

THE ONLY STEAM COOKED OATMEAL

Interesting Facts Regarding One of Nature's Most Valuable Foods.

According to leading food scientists, oatmeal is one of the best-balanced foods available, for both old and young alike. It is a staple article of diet in almost every home in the country, yet very little knowledge regarding it is possessed by the average person.

A most surprising fact is that ordinary oatmeal, or rolled oats, is really not digestible unless it has been cooked for about sixteen hours—and even then much of the food value is lost entirely.

To overcome this great disadvantage, experiments were conducted some years ago which resulted in the discovery of a process of cooking oatmeal at a very high temperature under steam pressure. This produces what is known as H-O Oatmeal, which can be obtained in cardboard cartons at all good grocers.

H-O Oatmeal not only has a rich, nutty, delicious flavor, but is very easily digested by the most delicate stomach.

H-O can be made ready for the table with only twenty minutes cooking. It costs a little more than ordinary oatmeal, but is worth a great deal more. For your family's sake insist upon H-O.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS. NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 18.—Street Superintendent J. E. Barker and his force of men have made some much-needed improvements on the sidewalks and streets between Newport and Balboa. The weeds along the sidewalks have been cut and burned, and the loose sand, which has hitherto drifted on the walks and impeded the pedestrians, has been removed. Various soft spots and chuckholes have been filled and the roads now are in better shape than they have ever been before.

THE SILENT BATTLEFIELD

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN

MEJSZAGOLA, near Vilna, Russia, Oct. 3 (by courier to Berlin, mail to New York).—Today is Sunday and we have motored out to the valley of Mejszagola, where the battle for Vilna was fought. Our way through abandoned trenches and barbed wire entanglements, dug or stretched through cemeteries, cabbage patches and potato fields.

Entering the ruins of Mejszagola, we obtained the first real view of the battlefield, and in its center, the dilapidated skeleton of what in peace time was a church. It was all so quiet. One could hardly realize that from the 2nd to the 11th of September, 45,000 of the Russian guard and the German landsturm were locked, in this three-mile valley, in a seething death struggle. It was but one of the terrible, decisive engagements of this war, about which the public has scarcely heard.

Vilna

This battle was the beginning of the fall of Vilna, the first city the Czar tried to save when he took personal command of his army. Vilna was a beautiful, modern city about the size of Indianapolis; a terminal on the main rail line to Petrograd. The Czar entrenched 500,000 troops about the city, including three divisions of his personal guard. Kovno had fallen and Hindenburg was coming. September 2nd the armies met at Mejszagola and for nine days the crash and roar of bedlam reigned in the Russians' hopeless task of checking the Teutons' advance. The night of the eleventh the Germans stormed an entanglement and the trench back of it delivered heavy flank attacks and were commanders of the whole position, had 20,000 prisoners and sealed Vilna's fate.

Burned Homes

We sauntered through the town, past the black piles of burned homes, and out into the Russian trenches. These, dug slightly below the crest of the hill, were architecturally so perfect that they blended into the landscape 300 feet away. These trenches commanded the valley, across which, on the forest's fringe, were the German trenches. The green fields between were peppered with the black spots that artillery fire makes. We walked the tops of the Russian trenches, which are built of heavy logs and cement blocks covered with five and six layers of green sod. Once I looked down. A dead Russian stared up at me.

Scattered everywhere were caps, coats, shoes, food, bottles and personal effects. Unused rifle ammunition lay like seed sown on a new field. Here and there were 15 and 21 centimeter shells, unexploded, still hugging their death-dealing power. Bits of white paper bearing firing line reports that had been telephoned to the artillery positions scattered crazily about the desolate field in the breeze. Everywhere were single graves, some marked with cross and helmet, others barren.

Horror Scene

We walked to the edge of the thick woods, then back to the first line German position. Torn Russian and German uniforms, blood-stained knives, bayonets, guns, belts, helmets, caps, overcoats and graves were strange flowers in this wild garden that death grew in the green, cupped valley 'twixt here and the Russian emergency trenches on the far slope.

From among the Russians and Germans lying there side by side in death, picked up a German belt buckle bearing the inscription, "God With Us." The Russian Bibles scattered about were so numerous as to be unaccountable. Where the field postmaster had arrived during the heavy fighting, letters and packages from home whitened the ground. On a little mound I found a letter, addressed in a feminine hand, from Dresden—a letter from home, unopened, for the soldier beneath the mound. I stared at the mound and the letter for a long time. Then I looked up. The sun was shining across the valley. And the valley was silent.

Skeletons Torn Up

We stopped before the church. Ten paces brought us to an old graveyard in which the storm of shells had plowed up the skeletons of those long dead and scattered them about, stark and white, like an army of fallen ghosts lying in the wake of battle, grinning at the daylight. The green sod of the surrounding fields was strewn with the remnants of shells which had exploded in mid-air and rained their devilish iron and fire on to fire. The rifles blazed. The physicians applied a stethoscope. The body sagged and stiffened. The head dropped. Hillstrom died in twelve seconds. The corpse was carried to the prison hospital.

HILLSTROM DIES FIGHTING LIKE 'TRUE REBEL'

Shatters Own Last Hope
The body remained unclaimed for hours.

An eleven-hour attempt to save Hillstrom failed. A Seattle man giving the name of Busby, is reported to have signed an affidavit establishing Hillstrom's ability. The officials questioned Hillstrom. He denied knowing Busby. Thus he shattered his own last hope.

Governor Spry and the pardons board, who sent Hillstrom to his death despite country-wide protests, did not witness the execution.

Friend Not Admitted
Ed Rowan, I. W. W. secretary, applied for admission as Hillstrom's friend. He was not allowed inside the prison walls.

A crowd of 150 gathered outside the prison. The crowd heard the rifles crack.

Despite threats, which had been made, the city was quiet. There were no disorders during the execution.

A sign, "Good-bye, Capital," had been painted in scarlet letters on the walls of the state capital.

Marksmen's Aim Perfect
The marksmen's aim was perfect. The bullets entered over Hillstrom's heart in a space the size of a silver dollar.

The doctors called the shooting the "most humane method, obviously superior to hanging."

Last night Hillstrom scoffed at death. He refused to go on his knees for a new trial. He refused a dying statement, saying, "They would call me a liar, anyway."

Sends Woman Telegram
Hillstrom telegraphed Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, "Good-bye, Gurley, dear. I have lived like a rebel and shall die like a rebel." He telegraphed to Bill Heywood, I. W. W. organizer, "Could you arrange to have my body hauled to the state line for burial? Don't want to be found dead in Utah. Good-bye, Bill. I will die like a true blue rebel. Don't waste time in mourning—organize."

Spry Answers Wilson
Answering President Wilson's request, Governor Spry telegraphed:

"I am fully convinced your request is based on a misconception of the facts, or that there is a reason of an international nature which has not been disclosed."

Governor Spry declared that he could not "interfere with justice."

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 19.—Five riflemen hired by the county at $40 were scheduled to shoot Joseph Hillstrom through the heart in the prison yard here shortly after sunrise today, that being the penalty the 33-year-old I. W. W. poet has been sentenced to pay for the murders of J. G. Morrison and his son, Arling, here about two years ago.

Hillstrom selected this method of execution instead of hanging, as is permitted by the Utah law. His friends all over the country put up such a fight to save him that the President of the United States, at the Swedish minister's request, granted him a vain reprieve in September.

Story Not Credited
While circumstantial evidence convicted Hillstrom of the murders, his own attempt to defend himself in court and his refusal to tell where he was on the night of the crime, helped to send him to his doom. Hillstrom's plea was that he was somewhere else, and he consistently adhered to the declaration that he would rather die than ruin a woman's good name. This story was not credited by the authorities.

Hillstrom appeared shortly after the murders with a bullet wound in his shoulder. Blood spots showed that the Morrisons wounded their assailant. The man with whom Hillstrom lived disappeared after the murder. The missing man was believed to have been Hillstrom's accomplice, witnesses at the trial testifying that two men of their general appearance were seen loitering about the Morrison grocery.

Prefer Shooting.
Fourteen men besides Hillstrom had died at the hands of a Utah firing squad, according to law. Only four ever chose to be hanged. The procedure scheduled for today was fixed by precedent. Extraordinary precautions were taken to guard officials, from the governor and supreme court justices down to Sheriff John Corless, who was to give the firing signal. Even the principal public buildings were under heavy guard as was also the county prison.

Many letters were received during Hillstrom's fight for a new trial or commutation, threatening officials with death and stating that buildings would be razed with dynamite if Hillstrom was not freed.

Blindfolded
Before dawn today Hillstrom was to be garbed in a black shirt, open at the neck; black trousers and loose slippers. He was to be given his choice of food for breakfast. This last meal over, Hillstrom was to be led, blindfolded, by two guards toward the open court where riflemen were to be hidden behind the blacksmith shop door. Hillstrom's request to face his executioners unblindfolded was denied. He was not to see the sun on his last day on earth.

The riflemen are picked shots. They were to be taken to the scene secretly and their identity was not to be known. One of their five guns was to contain a blank, but none of the riflemen are to know which has the harmless weapon. The rifles, extending from five holes in the door, will point at a congress chair 30 feet away in the prison yard. The guards will quickly shove the doomed man into the chair, strap his legs and arms to posts and fasten a strap around his waist.

Target Over Heart.
The prison physician will take Hillstrom's pulse and pin a white target over his heart. The little group of official witnesses is to keep at a safe distance, behind ropes. Sheriff Corless will stop back and ask the witnesses to uncover. He will give a signal and five rifles will speak. Four will spit deadly missiles through the white target, through Hillstrom's heart and into the packed sand box behind the chair. Hillstrom is expected to die almost instantly.

Although Hillstrom came to the United States from Sweden when he was 20, he did not take out citizenship papers. He was well known in the ranks of the Industrial Workers of the World. Charges by the prosecution that Hillstrom was arrested during the Butte labor troubles, that he aided the McNamara brothers in their dynamiting career and other allegations, were never refuted by the defense, but Attorney O. N. Hilton of Denver, a volunteer in Hillstrom's defense, challenged the pardon board to prove that Hillstrom was ever convicted of any criminal charge.

Hillstrom was the author of many I. W. W. songs and articles displaying his bitterness against conditions, rather than any marked literary talent. He had no fixed place of residence.

CROP ROTATION FOR BETTER CULTIVATION
The most profitable crop rotation does not consist merely in changing the crops around from year to year, regardless of the relation of the crops to each other. The central aim in all crop-rotation systems should be to leave each field in a better state of cultivation, better physical condition, and reasonably free from pests at the end of each rotation cycle.

No hard or fast rotation system can be laid down for any community, but the most profitable system must be worked out for each farm, and, indeed for each field. There are certain general principles, however, that should be borne in mind in this connection in order to accomplish the most satisfactory results. For soil improvements there should be at least one leguminous crop in each rotation cycle.

To this class of plants belong the clovers, alfalfa, peas, beans, etc. There should also be a sufficient quantity of live stock, especially milk cows, on each farm to utilize the roughage and to supply the desired quantity of stable manure, which, in addition to green crops plowed under, will furnish the necessary amount of humus to the soil. The conditions resulting from this treatment, if the soil is properly handled, will make the succeeding crops more vigorous and capable of offsetting, in some measure at least, the effects of any pests that may appear. Again, the successive crops in any rotation should be selected and arranged that no two upon which the same pest may thrive will be grown in succession. The principles of disease control by means of crop rotation are based upon the fact that certain pests can thrive only on certain kinds of plants. Therefore, when the crops are changed and the food supply thereby cut off, the pests must perish or be greatly reduced in number.

COLDS DO NOT LEAVE WILLINGLY
Because a cold is stubborn is no reason why you should be. Instead of "wearing" it out, get sure relief by taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Dangerous bronchial and lung ailments often follow a cold which has been neglected at the beginning. As your body faithfully battles those cold germs, no better aid can be given than the use of this remedy. Its merit has been tested by old and young. Get a bottle today. 50c and $1.00.

MEXICO'S FIVE YEARS' WAR

Can Carranza Do It?

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of three articles dealing with Mexico. The third will appear shortly.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Has Carranza the strength and purpose that Madero lacked to enforce reforms, particularly agrarian, which Madero failed to establish.

This is the question asked in world diplomatic circles today. Mexican affairs observers point to the brief peaceful reign of Madero as possibly significant.

After his election in 1910 Madero sought reform laws including the division of land among the peons. He failed. Discontent followed. Criticism became active opposition. Nepe-tism is said to have weakened Madero's power. Graft again held sway. Amidst the clamor against Madero, Gen. Victoriano Huerta, Madero's minister of war, is alleged to have conceived his overthrow. Felix Diaz, nephew of the former dictator, and General Reyes were called Huerta's co-conspirators.

Storm Breaks
The storm against Madero broke February 9, 1913. The Mexico City garrison, controlled by Huerta, revolted. The capital was the battleground. Cannon raked the streets. Rioting and pillage, arson and murder, reigned.

The arrest of Madero followed February 18. Under threats of assassination he resigned next day. Under the Mexican constitution, Pedro Lascurain, Madero's minister of foreign affairs, became president—for an hour. In that hour Lascurain appointed Huerta foreign minister, then resigned. Huerta, by succession, became president.

Forty-eight hours later Madero and Suarez were dead. On the night of February 23 they were taken from a carriage while en route from one prison to another and shot down by soldiers. Lieut. Francisco Cardenas is said to have been commander of the firing squad. He later fled and is today reported exiled in Guatemala.

Upon Madero's death, Huerta urged all state governors to remain loyal. He also demanded U. S. recognition from President Taft. Before the latter had time to decide, his term ended.

Revenge
To avenge Madero's assassination and restore constitutional government, the present Constitutional revolution was organized, culminating in the recent recognition of the Carranza government.

Gen. Venustiano Carranza was Madero's governor of Coahuila, a well-to-do rancher. Pancho Villa was then a bandit in the Sonora mountains. On March 26 Carranza was proclaimed "First Chief" of the Constitutionalist revolt, at a conference of revolutionists at Guadalupe, Coahuila. The famous "Plan of Guadalupe" was there born, pledging the Constitutionalist to avenge Madero's death and place a constitutional successor in the president's chair. Land and other reforms were pledged.

Numerous and wealthy relatives of Madero supported Carranza's revolt. Northern Mexico united to recruit Carranza's army. From Sonora Pancho Villa stepped out upon the stage of Mexican politics. He and his outlaws enlisted under Carranza.

Villa was appointed a general of the Division of the North. General Alvaro Obregon was head of the northwestern corps. In a spectacular campaign, Villa headed captures of Juarez, Chihuahua and finally Torreón, one of the bloodiest battles. Afterward Zacatecas fell. During 1913-14 the Constitutionalist fought almost to Aguas Calientes.

Refuses Recognition
Meantime President Wilson had refused Huerta recognition. In several messages to Congress, the first only eight days after his inauguration, the President declared "Huerta must go."

Huerta's downfall was forecasted by the President's proclamation raising the embargo on arms in favor of the revolutionists. Huerta had been recognized by England, Spain, France, Austria, Japan and other countries.

On October 10, 1913, Huerta suspended the Mexican congress, arrested it, or half of the members. There were reports that many were assassinated. With the Carranzistas pressing upon Mexico City, the "Tampico incident" occurred April 9, 1914, when American bluejackets were arrested by Huerta's orders. Demands by Admiral Mayo for a salute to the flag in reparation, was swiftly followed by the expeditionary landing April 21 at Vera Cruz, with fighting in which twenty-one Americans were killed. The army commanded by General Funston took possession.

President Wilson then called the A. B. C. Mexican peace conference at Niagara Falls, April 25. Huerta sent delegates. Carranza refused official participation or an armistice. No tangible results toward pacification were attained by the congress.

Capitulating to the force of this government's insistence upon his retirement, Huerta, after a farcical election as president in July, 1914, resigned July 15 and went to Paris. Carranza entered Mexico City at the head of his troops August 20, 1914.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

JUDGMENT OF $100
GIVEN DONALDSON
AGAINST GARLOCK

At 11:30 o'clock last night the jury that tried the damage action in which F. S. Donaldson, a South Main street grocer, sued F. W. Garlock, a Delhi grocer, for $297 damages as the result of a collision between Donaldson's delivery wagon and Garlock's automobile, brought in a verdict of $100 for Donaldson. Attorneys G. H. Scott and Steele Finley represented Donaldson and H. C. Head appeared for Garlock, who put in a counterclaim.

The controversy developed conflicting evidence. Each principal asserted that the other drove upon the left side of the street. The collision occurred on Sylvan street near Cubbon. Donaldson said that when he saw the auto coming he stopped his horse. The defense asserted that he should have gotten out of the way.

Those on the jury were J. S. Waser, H. M. Palmer, A. F. Marsile, P. E. Newman, P. Patterson, J. T. Dilley, M. L. Palmer, E. M. Shepard, D. Blose, J. C. Davis, L. P. Hendrickson and F. E. Graves.

Arabelle's house. The house was searched by the sheriff and his deputies, and most of the articles were found. Ignacio said Rodriguez brought the things there. Rodriguez was arrested in Anaheim by Officer Sackett.

FRUIT EXCHANGE LOOKS FORWARD TO SPLENDID CROP YEAR

Nine Exchange Houses Expected to Handle $1,500,000 Citrus Fruits

Should the citrus industry of Orange county be favored with normal conditions during the coming season, $4,000,000 will be received by the growers for their crops. Late figures given out by the Orange County Fruit Exchange state that the nine houses of the exchange will receive approximately $1,500,000 for the crop marketed through them, provided that unforeseen conditions do not arise.

The latest estimates compiled by the Exchange place the output for the coming season as follows: Navel, 255 cars; Valencia, 1347 cars; miscellaneous, 34 cars; lemons, 485 cars, or a total of 2071 of all citrus fruits.

The Garden Grove Association, the newest of the nine members, will pack its output at Garden Grove this season, it is announced. The Garden Grove growers have no house of their own as yet but expect to rent a structure in which the work of packing will be done.

Approximately 75 per cent of all the citrus fruits grown in Orange county are now being marketed by the Orange County Fruit Exchange. The district north of the Santa Ana river grows approximately one-half of all the citrus fruits grown in the county. "California faces the prospect of harvesting the biggest crop of oranges and lemons that the state has ever produced," said D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange.

AN EASY WAY TO INCREASE WEIGHT

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach and stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-construction powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what results this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. All leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

WHILE the east is waiting for the frost to get on the pumpkin so that the succulent persimmon will be fit to eat, the fruit in Southern California just ripens without waiting for any particular brand of weather.

In the east the persimmons can't be eaten until the roses are gone. In this section the roses and persimmons reach their perfection at the same time.

This year's crop of the Japanese variety of persimmons that is chiefly grown in the Southland, promises to be a record-breaker. Already the last is outclassed in the size of the fruit grown. A basket of the fruit brought to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce by I. F. McCullom and grown by him at his ranch at El Modena averaged one pound each in weight. These are the largest ever exhibited in the chamber.

The frostless persimmon is something of a hit in the east, as the Japanese variety of this section finds a market in Chicago where it sells at five cents apiece. Large orchards of the fruit are being set out in Orange county.

The cut, for which The Register is indebted to the Los Angeles Express, shows Thelma Stonestreet holding a large basket of persimmons and roses.

CHAYOTE NEW FRUIT BEING GROWN HERE

Considerable quantities of the comparatively little known tropical fruit, chayote, are being grown in various parts of Orange county. The fruit has established itself in California, though it is almost unknown in other parts of the United States.

It is stated that among the first to introduce the chayote in this section was W. F. Heathman, for many years city attorney of Santa Ana. Heathman, it is stated, introduced the plant here from the South.

The chayote (pronounced chah-yo-tay) is a native of Jamaica and grows in Central and South America and in parts of Mexico. In its West Indian home it is called "cho-cho" and the fruit finds as free use there as the potato with the people of the United States.

The vine is a strange one and grows like magic. Ten square feet is the average growth the first year. The second year, an average of twenty-five feet is attained.

A Santa Ana chayote vine that is attracting a good deal of attention is that of George W. Baker, at 2007 North Bush street.

The fruit weighs from a half to one and a quarter pounds each. The leaves and nature of the growth are similar to those of the grape.

From a single vine, Baker is harvesting about 500 chayotes this season, which gives an idea of the productiveness of the plant. Baker's plant is five years old.

DAMAGE, NOT SERIOUS, DONE BY DRY WEATHER, TO VILLA PARK FIELDS

Hold-back Expected to Result Favorably For Vegetable Men

That the dry weather of the past week or two has resulted in considerable, though not serious, damage to growing crops in the fields of the Orange County Vegetable Growers' Association at Villa Park, was stated today by H. W. Waterman, secretary and manager of the association.

"Weather conditions have destroyed the bloom of the plants to a considerable extent," said Manager Waterman. "However, no very great harm will result in the event that cooler weather sets in. At any rate, the fact that the in season and fresh bloom starts early crop has been lightened will probably result favorably to the growers in that better prices will be obtained for goods reaching the market later in the season."

Shipments by express, of bell peppers, string and lima beans, peas and winter tomatoes, are going forward from the productive Villa Park section.

PREPARING PLANS FOR BREA'S NEW SCHOOL

Plans for the new school building to be erected at Brea, are being prepared by Architects Jeffrey & Schaefer, Los Angeles. The cost will be about $55,000. It will contain ten class rooms, auditorium, sloyd and domestic science departments. It will be designed in the shape of a letter "H," extreme dimensions, 250x176 feet. The style of architecture will be classic.

A PINE WHOOPING COUGH REMEDY Mothers, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar-Honey is just the remedy for your children's cold ailments. The fact is that pine is a quick enemy of cold conditions. Its qualities loosen the mucous in the throat, soothe the lungs and open up the air passages. The combination of honey, soothing and pleasant, with the loosening pine quality makes this an ideal cough remedy for children. Each passing year brings for it new friends. A family of growing children cannot afford to be without it. 25c a bottle.

GIANT STRIDES IN HUNTINGTON BEACH CITY

When Henry E. Huntington came down from San Francisco in 1898 with $20,000,000 to plan and build the splendid interurban electric railway system which radiates from Los Angeles, he declared the site of the Huntington Beach coast city the "finest of them all," and his first act was to run the steel rails to that point.

Huntington Beach has more than made good in the establishment of a delightful home place and coast resort. The town is growing rapidly. Twenty-one new dwellings are now in course of erection and work has started on three and one-half miles of new street paving. Two new business blocks have just been completed and another is to be built in December.

On the property of the Huntington Beach company eighty families have been located during the past fourteen months, the homeseekers occupying tracts of two and one-half acres up, and more are coming.

STANTON IMPROVEMENTS

Stanton Optimist: Now that the street lights are burning cheerfully other improvements will follow. J. F. Simpson, road foreman, has put the side streets in fine order and has just started on the grading of Grand avenue. The center of the street is already macadamized but the sides are to be brought to grade and improved, making a good street from curb to curb. This work has long been needed but was delayed by poles and other obstructions in the roadway. These have now all been cleared away and there is nothing to prevent the speedy completion of the street work.

SUGAR PLANT'S SEASON CLOSES

Anaheim Factory Slices 80,000 Tons of Beets In 110-Day Run

Anaheim Gazette: At 8 o'clock Sunday night the whistle at the Anaheim sugar factory blew a long blast announcing that the campaign of 1915 was closed. The plant opened the last week in July and was engaged 110 days on the beet crop. Approximately 80,000 tons of beets were sliced this season, the product of 10,000 acres. The plant will continue to run for some time working up the molasses that has accumulated.

This has been an excellent season for the five sugar factories of Orange county. The weather last winter was favorable, and a splendid crop of beets was raised in most sections. The sugar content was higher than usual, and each plant has experienced a prosperous year. The acreage signed up by the Anaheim factory was considerably larger than for the previous year. The yield per acre was also heavy, consequently the campaign was a couple of weeks longer than the average. It is not known how much sugar was turned out by the local plant this season, as the figures will not be made public until after the annual meeting of stock holders, but it is understood, or believed, that the output was the greatest in the five years' history of the factory. It was large enough to make a good sized package of candy for every waiting stocking Santa Claus finds on Christmas eve. Orange county's output this year it is estimated, is more than one hundred million pounds.

Owing to the present tariff law which lowered the duty on this crop and provides that sugar shall go on the free list on May 1st, it was expected that all plants would run at a loss this season and shut down indefinitely at the close, but the European conflict interposed and saved them. Imports from Germany and Austria are entirely cut off, and the product of France, Belgium and Russia has been greatly curtailed. From this calamity across the sea Orange county factories and beet growers have profited, as the market price of this season's crop has been good.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 18.—Street Superintendent J. E. Barker and his force of men have made some much-needed improvements on the sidewalks and streets between Newport and Balboa. The weeds along the sidewalks have been cut and burned, and the loose sand, which has hitherto drifted on the walks and impeded the pedestrians, has been removed. Various soft spots and chuckholes have been filled and the roads now are in better shape than they have ever been before.

We offer some unusual values in used cars this week. Liberal terms and guaranteed. Russell Motor Sales Co., Fifth and Bush.

EXTEND SEWERS
AND PAVE A
STREETTwo More Projects For Improvement Are On At Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 16.—Two additional projects have been brought informally before the city trustees and both will doubtless be carried through. The first is for an extension of the sewer main as far as Twenty-third street. This will be done by an assessment district and will accommodate a large section of the city which the Huntington Beach Co. is desirous of developing.

The other project is that of paving Third street, which is the first street to the eastward of lower Main street. No petition for this improvement has been formally presented to the city trustees but it is expected that it will be at the next meeting as a delegation of property owners have been in conference with members of the board with reference to the project.

To go anywhere with my face in this condition is the expression of a very natural feeling. To a beautiful woman an eruption on the face is the greatest of calamities, her very beauty seeming to increase the disfigurement. Ninety-eight times in every hundred, eruptions are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and the skin recovers its maiden bloom and softness. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a medicine which acts directly on the blood, purifying it, increasing its quantity and its richness. Eruptions, blotches, pimples, etc., are but surface signs of the corrupt blood current underneath. "Discovery" cleanses the blood, and so cleanses the skin.

Good blood means good health, good health means strong men and women, full of vigor and ambition, with minds alert and muscles ever willing. Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in either liquid or tablet form to-day. It's a pure glycerine extract of roots made without alcohol.

'PIT, PENDULUM DEATH' FINDS
GIANT HOWITZER AT DUNKIRK

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMS

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN CHAMPAGNE, Oct. 29 (by mail).—The aviator who discovered the big 280-millimeter gun which bombarded Dunkirk, today told me how he did it. He is a French captain, but beyond that the censor commands silence.

"I was flying in Flanders," he said, "when Dunkirk underwent her first bombardment. It seemed that the big shells must come from warships at sea, but as you know, they were fired from a point in Belgium some two miles back of the German lines, or about twenty miles.

Aviators Give Range
"It takes a thief to catch a thief, so as German aviators gave the range to the big gun, French aviators watched them and gave the range to the Allied artillery. We photographed the position from several thousand feet up, and from this photo marked on our large-scale artillery maps the exact point of the shells' departure."

The captain, young, clean-cut, wearing a monocle, his reddish mustache cut American fashion, opened an album such as you probably have at home. Turning a few pages he stopped at one he said was the Dunkirk cannon. Small, but distinct, the cannon could be seen in a circle of whitish-gray—the cement base. Leading up to it was a double thread—the tramway over which the mammoth shells were hauled. Nearby was a highway; elsewhere darkish fields; beets, probably.

Spike Enemy Howitzer
"All that remained," continued the boyish captain, "was to 'spike' the enemy's howitzer. This was done systematically. The Germans say we waste ammunition, but the silencing of this piece refutes that. We photographed the position after each shot. Look at these photos.

Turning the pictures slowly, one could see the spots, representing holes dug by the guns searching for Dunkirk's bombardier, getting closer and closer to the target. It was like the Pit and the Pendulum all over again. The German gunners must have seen death drawing closer and closer, but there was nothing for them to do. The shells were closing in rapidly and their howitzer was too big to be unbolts from the cement and hauled away.

Photos Give Aid
"When I had given approximately the proper range by the aid of our photos," the officer said, "we overflew the gun and gave directions by wireless and got the gun." The last photograph showed a veritable pit about the German piece. It must have been hit repeatedly. The captain did not say so, but his work was done under hot fire from anti-aircraft guns below; and while fighting air duels with German aeroplanes sent up against him.

The officer showed me his photographing aeroplane. The camera is in front and screwed, lens down, to the aeroplane's floor. To prevent vibration the apparatus is mounted on four soft rubber cones. A telescopic lens registers objects a mile beneath it.

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

Christian Science Monitor

William Howard Taft has confirmed the statement made by Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican National committee, that the former President will not be a candidate before the Republican National convention in 1916. Theodore Roosevelt, likewise former president, is so decidedly on record against the regular Republican organization as to render it next to impossible that his name should be presented in a formal way to that aggregation. Charles E. Hughes, former governor of New York, now a justice of the United States Supreme Court, has sanctioned at least two positive statements made in his behalf, to the effect that under no circumstances would he seek or accept the presidential nomination. Thus, it is fair to assume, for the sake of argument at all events, that three of the most prominently mentioned presidential possibilities on the Republican side during recent years have removed themselves from further consideration in this respect. Their elimination opens the gate wider to others. It should also pave a way for the Republican party by which it can escape from the middle or at either end. To date, there is nothing to indicate that anyone has a distinct advantage over the others. It is an unusual thing that at this stage no one or two or three may properly be presented as having a lead or leads against the field. To the hour of writing, in short, the struggle for the Republican nomination is what in politics is called "everybody's fight," which is another way of saying that the opportunity for success is open to all.

Taking them at random, then, with Mr. Taft, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hughes out of the account, we have these aspirants for Republican nomination to the highest office in the Union: Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana, former United States senator and former vice-president of the United States; Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, United States senator; Elihu

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Heretofore the word "Illustrated," as applied to a Bible, meant merely a few alleged "pictures" of Biblical events taken from any source and "conveniently" placed in any part of the book, merely as embellishment inserts, but not directly alongside and explanatory of the verse intended to apply or make plain; but our publishers, at an outlay of $50,000, prepared accurate illustrations DESCRIPTIVE of the VERSE which they accompanied, and placed directly next to the verse of the same described—the only place it can be looked for or found quickly, the only place the illustration is a help to you—making it the FIRST and ONLY complete ILLUSTRATED Bible.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables were practically unchanged yesterday and jobbers report a good buying demand for almost all staples. Lettuce has grown exceedingly scarce and prices were raised Thursday to 30 cents a dozen and $1.25 a crate. Cucumbers are larger in size this year than for many seasons and heavy calls for the vegetable from districts outside of the state have resulted in a shortage in the local market. Tomatoes are more plentiful and quotations are scheduled for a reduction in the near future. Horseradish root is very common and there is any amount of the same for sale at 12 1/2 to 15 cents a pound. Muscat grapes are off the market for all practical purposes, as there are but a few lugs of inferior stock still on hand. Persimmons are cheaper at 6 and 7 cents a pound and dealers are overstocked with the fruit. Pomegranates are also slow sellers, the public not having shown much interest in the fruit this season.

Ranch eggs dropped 2 cents a dozen on the Produce Exchange yesterday.

ANAHEIM CITRUS ASSOCIATION'S YEAR PROVES A SUCCESS

For 151,492 Boxes Oranges Shipped, $278,089.16 Received

ANAHEIM, Nov. 19.—The annual meeting of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association was held yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Manager Sandilands gave his annual report showing that the local association has made good progress during the year.

Among the prominent speakers in the afternoon were C. H. Grassly of the Semi-Tropic Fruit Exchange, having for his subject "Last Season and Next Season," Dana C. King spoke on "Prospects for Next Year" and C. S. Milliken addressed the meeting on "Membership and Co-operation."

At noon free lunch was given to over 300 people. C. E. Holcomb, president, addressed the meeting after lunch and was followed by Prof. H. J. Quayle of the Riverside Experiment Station on "Scale Control." Prof. W. H. Mertz of the same place talked on "Cover Crops."

The enthusiasm with which the report of Manager Sandilands was met showed that the members were more than usually pleased with the excellent way he has handled the work for the past season. When he told of the increased business and receipts of the association and the plans made for greater work to be handled next year those present were filled with enthusiasm and the addresses of the men who followed made each decide to push forward to greater success next season.

The Anaheim Association is to be congratulated on the fine showing made and the high prices paid. "Anaheim Supreme" is an advertisement for which the whole district should give credit to the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association and its able manager, Gerald W. Sandilands.

Manager's Report
The following is from the manager's report:

The Valencia market opened about

MRS. CAVELL is the mother of Edith Cavell, the English nurse who who was shot to death in Belgium. The British are now trying to raise a Cavell Memorial Fund, which may be devoted to the mother of the woman who said, as she faced the German firing squad, "I am happy to die for my country."

the middle of May with active demand, all accumulations of oranges having been cleaned up by extraordinary and far reaching advertising carried out by the Exchange in celebration of Orange Day.

Many were surprised at the prices realized on the first Valencia shipped and a great many thought that the activity was only temporary. During June and July, however, prices were still further advanced and during the month of August, when we usually expect a dull market, due to heavy arrivals in all markets of other fruits, the highest prices were shown up to the end of that month, which closed our season.

This remarkable condition of extremes from the lowest prices in January and February to the highest in August, were contrary to all expectations and past experience and whilst much of it was due to changing financial conditions throughout the country, there is no doubt in the minds of those who were in a position to follow each successive change closely that a large part was due to the comprehensive and nationwide campaign of advertising on Sunkist oranges carried out the past season by the Exchange. The most convincing proof of this was the fact that during the whole year oranges brought more money and were in greater demand throughout the country than any other fruit. Added to this valuable advertising was the careful manner in which the average Exchange packhouse prepared their fruit for the market, offering to the trade consistent grades, fully up to specifications and exactly as represented in every detail, and thereby gaining the confidence and goodwill of the trade, which is as important as it is necessary in the successful marketing of our oranges.

Shipments
Your association shipped the past season 151,492 boxes of oranges for which was received $278,089.16. This was an increase of about 60,000 boxes over the previous season and over $130,000 in money received.

Our regular itemized financial statement showing the details of this business will be mailed to each member with our regular circular next month.

Our financial statement shows that after meeting all our obligations the past season and after providing 6 per cent interest on the 22,700 (valued at one dollar per share) shares of the association stock we have outstanding, we have a surplus on hand of $10,369.81. This amount will be refunded to you at the rate of six cents per packed box on every box shipped the past season, checks for which will reach you in a short time.

Supplies
Your association purchased $3901.80 worth of fertilizers and cover crop seed the past season. Our total packhouse and orchard supplies aggregated $40,759.73, all of which were purchased through the Fruit Growers' Supply Company and for which we received a refund of $1735.91.

Fumigation
Your association through its three fumigating outfits has covered to date 40,000 trees with three weeks more work before we can close our campaign. It is estimated that our total for the season will nearly double the total number fumigated last year. For use in this work we shall have used $6000 of cyanide and believe the quality of work from inspections show a higher percentage of kill than ever before. This department has been greatly handicapped by the large proportion of wet nights we have had this season which has delayed the completion of our campaign considerably.

Your association is now comprised of 220 active members. This is an increase of 41 over last year. This membership represents 2700 acres of orange trees from three years of age and older.

Financial Condition
Your association completed last season in excellent financial condition. There are no debts, lawsuits, or claims of any kind against your organization.

AL G. BARNES, owner of the Barnes circus, who directs the education of the 600 performing animals of his show, that is to be in Santa Ana Wednesday, November 24.

An interesting and very unusual act presented on the program given by the Barnes Wild Animal Circus, is the horse-riding lion group.

Three full-grown, ferocious African lions have been trained to mount and ride galloping horses. This feature represents a very great achievement by Al G. Barnes, the wild animal training wizard. To make the act more unusual he has trained the lions to spring from the horses through hoops of fire. Thus, the most feared enemy of the horse—the lion, and the most feared enemy of the lion—the fire, are brought together in the act in an exhibition that is unrivaled in the art of wild animal training.

Another notable feat accomplished by Mr. Barnes, was the training of a grizzly bear, a Persian leopard, a Rocky Mountain goat and a chimpanzee to ride galloping ponies. These four animals ride in one group. The spectacle is truly amazing.

Sixty-five, instructive, entertaining, amusing, thrilling acts and features are presented by the Barnes show, over 600 educated animals taking part in the performance. No other amusement enterprise offers such an unusual and original array of novel entertainment.

A new-featured parade, in which four trumpeting bands play is presented to the public at 10:30. Performances are given at 2 and 8 p. m.

The show's date for Santa Ana is Wednesday, November 24.

PACKING HOUSE TO BUILD ADDITION

Anaheim Herald: The citrus industry is one which, during the past six years, has made great strides. That it has not reached its maximum growth, however, is evidenced by the fact that the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association has under consideration a large addition to its present extensive plant. This addition, it is understood will be erected in the near future. The output of oranges from this district is taxing the capacity of the plant, so much so that an extension is even now an imperative necessity. "Preparedness" is the watchword of the association.

Under the management of Mr. Sandilands the reputation of the association has kept pace with the growth in the plant. A few years ago much of the fruit grown here was hauled to the packing houses of neighboring cities but this is now, fortunately, an almost unknown occurrence. With the completion of the new addition Anaheim will have the largest packing house in the county whereas six years ago it was the smallest.
